BRIGHAM AND WOMEN'S
Faulkner Hospital

Information for Our Supporters on Making Gifts through Your Estate

Brigham and Women's Hospital (BWH) and Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital (BWFH) were founded through the generosity of individuals who established legacies through bequests that would revolutionize health care and change people's lives for the better. These gifts laid the groundwork for incredible innovations in medical research and patient care.

Today, your thoughtful planning remains vital as we continue to predict, prevent, and treat the world's toughest medical conditions. A bequest through your will or trust can transform the promise and possibility of medicine today into the new cures and treatments of tomorrow.

A bequest can be unrestricted, allowing the hospital to use it in areas where it is needed the most, or you can restrict your gift to support a specific area or program you feel passionate about.

You can include BWH or BWFH as a beneficiary of your will or trust by:

- Giving a specific dollar amount or a percentage of your estate
- Designating stocks, bonds, real estate, or other property
- Naming us as a residual beneficiary, so that BWH or BWFH receives your gift after you have provided for your family and loved ones

Our organizations correct legal names are:

The Brigham and Women's Hospital, Inc., Federal Tax Identification Number 04-2312909

The Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital, Inc., Federal Tax Identification Number 04-2768256

If you already have a will, you can add BWH or BWFH to it by creating a codicil. When you make a gift of this nature, we ask that you use the legal name of the hospital, as well as our tax identification number. The Office of Gift Planning is happy to provide you with any additional language that will help create your gift.

If you have any questions regarding these gifts or to learn more about how you can support Brigham and Women's Hospital or Brigham and Women's Faulkner Hospital, please contact Kathleen S. Duffy.
